(UNDRR)

under the

SINGAPORE-UNDRR JOINT TRAINING PROGRAMME

to be conducted by the

Singapore Cooperation Programme

Singapore has provided technical assistance to other developing countries since the 1960s. As a country whose only resource is its people, Singapore believes that human resource development is vital for economic and social progress. Singapore itself has benefited from training provided by other countries and international organisations.

In 1992, the Singapore Cooperation Programme (SCP) was established to bring together under one framework the various technical assistance programmes offered by Singapore. Through the SCP, the range and number of training programmes were increased to share Singapore's development experience with other developing countries.

To date, over 131,000 officials from more than 170 countries and territories have participated in our courses and study visits. The SCP is managed by the Technical Cooperation Directorate of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Singapore.

United Nations Office for Disaster Risk Reduction

The UN General Assembly adopted the International Strategy for Disaster Reduction in December 1999 and established the United Nations Office for Disaster Risk Reduction (UNDRR). UNDRR is the focal point in the UN system for the coordination of disaster risk reduction (DRR) and supports the implementation, follow-up and review of the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction 2015 – 2030. Its core areas of work include supporting countries and regions in ensuring DRR is a national and local priority and increasing investments for DRR.

The UNDRR's Global Education and Training Institute (GETI), which was established in 2010, has a mandate to develop a new cadre of professionals in DRR and climate change adaptation for disaster resilient societies. To deliver on this mandate, it has focused primarily on national and city leaders and municipal disaster risk managers. Over the years, UNDRR GETI has trained over 8,039 government officials on various aspects of DRR, from 149 countries.

Civil Service College, Singapore

The Civil Service College (CSC) plays a pivotal role in nurturing and developing the Singapore Public Service to meet challenges of the future. Its mission is to develop a first-class Public Service through training and development. CSC endeavours to be the heart of learning excellence and development for the Public Service in Singapore.

CSC offers a comprehensive suite of programmes that build strategic capability in the public service, focusing particularly on core areas in public governance, leadership, public administration, and management. We work closely with central government and public sector agencies to embed values, communicate public sector directions, and manage change in individuals and organisations. CSC partners public and private sector organisations as well as academia and international government agencies to exchange best practices and experiences in leadership, policy development, public administration, and public reforms. By sharing Singapore government's experience and best practices, we hope to promote good governance and develop goodwill, co-operation, and understanding between different governments across the world.

Course Objectives

This short online course examines key principles of DRR and the hardcoding of resilience into policy, implementation action and human behaviour. Drawing lessons from the COVID-19 global pandemic that demonstrates the 'new normal' of interconnected risk, participants will learn about the Sendai Framework for DRR 2015-2030, the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the Paris Agreement, interlinkages with International Health Regulations, and possible applications to their State's existing policy and plans. The course will also cover Singapore's Whole-of-government approach to integrated risk management and multi-stakeholder approach to crisis recovery.

UNDRR will provide globally accepted tools, including the Public Health Addendum to the Resilient Cities Scorecard, to help participants become familiar with tools available to develop risk-informed strategies and plans that link DRR, climate and development action. UNDRR will also bring global best practices and encourage sharing of experiences amongst the participants.

Synopsis

The programme will cover the following aspects:

- Understanding how DRR links with the Sustainable Development Goals and the Paris Agreement, linking the Sendai Framework with the other two major agreements of 2015;
- Understanding how to prevent creation of new risk, and reducing existing risks, including biological and human-induced hazards;
- Fundamentals for formulating national and local DRR strategies as per Global Target E of the Sendai Framework and indicators of SDGs 1 on no poverty, 11 on sustainable cities and 13 on climate action;
- Strengthening governance and building capacity;
- Integration of DRR and climate change adaptation into development policy. Key sectors covered will include infrastructure, housing, urban and land use planning, environmental protection, gender issues, psychosocial issues, and health;
- Building public health resilience through pandemic preparedness, including lessons from COVID-19;
- Essential emergency operations including emergency management plans, including health emergency;
- Working with public and private stakeholders and strengthening policy and decision-making processes, including for COVID-19 recovery.
